To the Students of Juneau High School . . . .

The Totem Staff presents and dedicates this 59-60 yearbook to you. It is our hope that it will be a bridge between this, the present, and the unknown years to come.

In our age of speed and quick action it is sometimes hard to remember the bygone years. This book, your book, is a lasting ticket for the return trip through time, a constant passport to the happy memories of the days spent in J-Hi. No matter how many paths our separate lives take or how many varied modes carry us forward, this Totem will ever be ready to guide us back to our high school days.

Senior Class History

The young seamen of the class of '60 confidently launched their Freshman year. Undaunted by the Sophomores' Hell Day, they honored their tormentors with a dance. Sailing on, they elected officers: President, Mike Donohue; Vice-President, Doug Crosby; Secretary, Sandra Cain; Treasurer, Eileen DeLand.

The Sophomore sea dogs coolly tortured the Frosh on Hell Day, finding revenge for the previous year. New captain Alan Gray was assisted by Russ Secrist, Vice-President; Sally Cole, Secretary; and Linda Willis, Treasurer. Susie Triplette and Kay Dilg cheered the Crimson Bears to an All-Alaska victory. Jim Rhode, Larry Langdon, and John Lewallen made Ketchikan and Petersburg strike their colors and relinquish the Debate Trophy.

As Junior voyageurs the class of '60 scored in many activities. Tom Blanton, Roger Grummett, and Alan Gray fought worthily with the Crimson Bears, encouraged by Songqueens Gwen Pierce and Marylee Edgley. Joe Heueisen travelled with the ski team to Anchorage, and Tom Blanton and Jim Brown sailed to the track meet in Ketchikan. A Hawaiian Holiday was enjoyed when the warm Pacific isle was visited at the Junior Prom. Debators Rhode, Poling, and Lewallen again talked the trophy to J-Hi. Class officers were: Tom Blanton, President; Clifton Beatle, Vice-President; Cathy Williams, Secretary; and Carty Munson, Treasurer. Alan Gray acted as ASB Vice-President.

Finally, cosmopolitan old salts, the Seniors elected Jim Brown Class President, assisted by Vice-President John Hagmeier, Secretary Gwen Pierce, and Treasurer Judy Ogden. Honored travellers on the Student Council included Jim Rhode, ASB President; Colleen Pearson, Secretary; Carol Ann Council, Treasurer; Girls Club President Joyce Hall; Publication Editors, Lynn Soley and Linda Willis; and Business Managers, Sally Cole and John Lewallen. Crimson Bear Captain Alan Gray was assisted in battle by teammates Tom Blanton, Roger Grummett, and Jim Brown. The first senior play for many years, filled the auditorium with people and mirth. The night of the Senior Ball the class cruised up a "Stairway to the Stars." On graduation night it donned the robes of wisdom and entered the light and dark blue decorated, lilac-garnished auditorium, knowing that "The Tide of Our Future Drifts Toward Success."

Couples dance by reflected starlight

And the decorating was fun, too!

Senior

After drifting up the "Stairway to the Stars," the couples of J-Hi danced dreamily among the fluffy angel-hair clouds and shimmering stars which illuminated the Class of '60's long anticipated Senior Ball. The annual "big event" for the Senior Class was held December 22, climaxing weeks of preparation by the members, under the all-seeing eye of President Jim Brown.

Entering the cafeteria, which was transformed into a "little bit of heaven," eager couples were greeted by presents in the form of gaily wrapped tables. On the stage stood a shining stairway leading to angel-hair clouds. However, a signpost reading "Angels Only" kept the stairway relatively bare. The huge silver star illuminated by soft blue lights drew the dancers attention to the center of the room. All agreed that it was a heavenly atmosphere for a lovely evening.

Preliminary steps to the lovely "Stairway"

Everyone enjoys the Seniors' masterpiece.

Hard work — but the results were worth it!

Junior Class

Advisor

MR. KIRK

Powerfully led by prexy Chick Featherstone and advisor Mr. Kirk, the Junior Class passed through the year with flying colors. Long awaited class rings were received and worn proudly; pop and book cover sales and other money making activities bolstered the class budget. The hard working crew of the Class of '61 promoted a successful Junior Prom. The annual decoration program for senior graduation ceremonies brought an end to another wonderful year — leaving only three months of vacation before inheritance of the school.

Advisor

MRS. WAGNER

The Class of '62 greeted the eager Frosh with opened arms and ushered them through an exciting initiation program, honoring them at the Soph Hop the evening of "Hell Day." This was the first activity of this year's Sophomores, but with Larry Hurlock and Mrs. Wagner, class prexy and advisor respectively, the active group went on to make this year one of concentrated activity from start to finish. The annual class picnic brought this "fabulous" year to a close.

Freshman Class

Advisor

MRS. SHAW

After a comical and long-to-be-remembered initiation, the Freshman Class swung into the regular J-Hi routine. Wayne Matheny was elected president under the supervision of class advisor, Mrs. Shaw. This, the largest class in the history of our high school, made its mark among the four classes by hosting a return mixer for the sophomores, sponsoring pop sales, and entering whole-heartedly in all-school programs. The year was concluded with a class picnic.

Captain

Numerous jobs and problems faced the officers of the Associated Student Body this year.

Leading the Student Council through a grueling season was active gavel wielder Jim Rhode.

JIM RHODE, A.S.B. President

Navigator

As Vice-President of the A.S.B., capable Dennis Shuman served as a member of the Planning Committee as well as chairman of the Housing Committee. His duties were many and exacting.

DENNIS SHUMAN, A.S.B. Vice-Pres.

Stewardess

Colleen Pearson, Student Body Secretary, was one of the leaders of J-Hi activities. Among her many duties were the Council minutes and necessary correspondence.

COLLEEN PEARSON, A.S.B. Secretary

Crew

Jim Rhode, president of the Associated Student Body, headed the Council of thirteen members. They successfully completed their job of deciding school issues, setting up the social calendar, and controlling all Student Body activities which benefited the entire school.

Engineers

The Planning Committee was the backbone of the assemblies. This student group, under the chairmanship of Joe Heueisen, was made up of specially selected students, chosen for their capability and freshness of ideas. It was their task to plan and direct the activities for all school get-togethers.

Office Help

Typing, telephone calls, and lunch count were only a few of the duties performed by these efficient office workers. Under the careful guidance and supervision of Mrs. Cooper, they aided in carrying out the daily office procedure.

FIRST ROW, L. to R.: D. Kassner, C. Aubert. SECOND ROW: D. Devinney, J. Scott, J. Cowling, Mrs. Cooper, L. Harvey, B. Landon, D. Poor.

Librarians

The Librarians had a very busy year filing cards, fixing and classifying new books, and checking out the needed volumes to students. The girls, with help from faculty librarian Mrs. Phillips, made especially attractive displays for National Book Week. Altogether, they worked very hard and showed fine ability as librarians.

Quill & Scroll

J-Hi's top journalists were selected to be members of Quill and Scroll, national honor society. Its members were chosen for their outstanding contributions to the student publications, J-Bird and Totem. In order to gain membership, prospectives must be of at least Junior standing, scholastically in the upper third of their class, and be approved by the high school principal, publications advisors, and the national society secretary.

FIRST ROW, L. to R.: M. Argetsinger, N. Walther, S. Cole, C. Pearson. SECOND ROW: J. Honeywell, E. Savikko, L. Willis, L. Soley, M. Mihelich. THIRD ROW: Mrs. Harlow, J. Lewallen, W. Swap, J. Rhode, Mrs. Sullivan.

Math Club

The third consecutive year of the Math Club at J-Hi was completed successfully under the able leadership of President Bob Eastaugh, and Advisor Miss Tillotson. Advanced math was covered by the score of student mathematicians. Dinner meetings combined food with food for thought for the members of the Iota Delta chapter of Mu Alpha Theta, the National Mathematics Association.

Debate

Under re-elected president John Lewallen and Coach Mrs. Clarissa Zumwalt, J-Hi's Debate Club swung into another year of orating. Early debates were on such vital subjects as cheating and teen-age marriages. Later, the club concentrated on the tournament topic, Labor-Management relations. A highly educational and successful year was climaxed at the annual Southeast Alaska Debate Tournament, hosted by Juneau.

Led by President Judy Ogden and Club Advisor Mrs. Cook, the Future Teachers engaged in pot-luck dinner meetings, and student-teacher practice programs. They ceremoniously honored the high school faculty members during National Teachers' Week, ushered interested guests during National Education Week, and showed the 8th Grade students the ways of high school life during the annual orientation program. This year was chalked up as a valuable one on the road to advanced education.

J-Hi's Future Homemakers of America have completed a year of fun and learning in the field of home economics. At monthly meetings, the girls prepared the meals, decorated and set the tables. Demonstrations of gift wrapping and hair styling added to the evening programs. Honored guests at two of the evening meetings were the freshman home-ec students and the mothers of the club members. All J-Hiers enjoyed the coffee breaks sponsored by the FHA. Pop sales also supplemented the group's piggy bank.

Future Nurses of America had a very active year, under the direction of president Judy Neal and advisor Mrs. Gair. To raise funds for the District Nurses Scholarship, the girls sold ceramic earrings in school colors. Among their activities were a group tour of the hospital and health center, and service as Nurses' Aids during the Juneau Polio Clinic.

Rocket Club

Under the guidance of Mr. Grieser, advisor, and Leland Smith, president, the Rocket Club launched its new program of research. Besides fuel test firings, projects included the launching of the large rocket assembled last year.

Moved to new success by Mr. Kirk and Jerry Bulkley, advisor and president, the Chess Club passed through the year with a new program.

Chess play-offs during the Wednesday night potluck dinner meetings were accompanied by talks from members. Concerning the history and theory of chess, the talks made the meetings informative as well as enjoyable.

Business Staff

Business operations flowed smoothly through the year. At the helm for the J-Bird were Sally Cole and Bonnie Bryson, competently guiding sales and ads. John Lewallen and Walt Swap carried through the Totem money matters with efficiency and dispatch. Experienced advice and hours of service were donated by Mr. Jeffrey, Business Advisor.

L. to R.: W. Swap, J. Lewallen, Mr. Jeffrey, S. Cole, B. Bryson.

Following an annual tradition, J-Hi publications sponsored the first big dance of the year. The Pub Hop, this year dubbed the "Beatnik Ball," took place October 16. Dancers were surrounded by modern paintings, hanging wine urns, and other symbols of Beatnik existence.

Entertainment featured a skit, complete with bongo drums, hot sax, and a bathtub; a dramatic interpretive dance, and a "gone" feminine trio.

The Beats are way out.

Mary helps create atmosphere.

But who's in the bathtub?

J-Bird Staff

Meeting last minute deadlines, Editor Lynn Soley and her staff of twelve did an excellent job of reporting J-Hi news. The group completed Volume 30 of the J-Bird, the student news publication.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Harlow, advisor, ten issues of the J-Bird, highlighted by a special Christmas and Senior Edition, rolled off the presses.

Writing parties and last minute stories were not unusual. Responsibility, good experience in writing and public relations were worthwhile products of a fun-filled year.

Always energetic, the yearbook staff introduced many new innovations to the '60 Totem. Planning began early in the year to insure a book that would be "the best ever."

The addition of the copy editor aided Editor-in-Chief Linda Willis, and picture schedules were pushed up to promote top quality work. Advisor Mrs. Sullivan contributed time and experience to make the '60 Totem a success.

Totem Queen

1960 Totem Queen, Jackie Honeywell, was crowned by last year's Queen Gwen Pierce during the annual Totem Dance. A new feature was the permanent crown, which is to have the queens' names engraved upon it through the years. Jackie was chosen from the group of five junior girls selling the yearbook, for her outstanding salesmanship.

The Totem staff hosts the Queen's Dance.

Senior Play

The shock of whose life?

Hootie Herc

Susie and Kay, talented duo.

As an innovation to usual fund raising programs, the Senior class instituted the beginnings of a new tradition — the Senior Play. "The Shock of His Life" was presented twice; once to the student body and once to the public. It was widely acclaimed as a "smash success," as was the accompanying variety show. President Brown and General Chairman Susie Tripléte expressed the thought that the productions were "very rewarding, and profitable, too!"

All together now, one, two, three.

Under President Joyce Hall and Mrs. Dame, advisor, J-Hi females once again found themselves enjoying another year of Girls' Club activities. Using the theme "Autumn Leaves," the senior girls played host to their freshman sisters at the annual Big and Little Sister Banquet. With the coming of Christmas, the club's traditional tree brought spirit and beauty to the halls of J-Hi. The "Mardi Gras" theme of Tolo was a great success, and the girl-ask-boy dance was thoroughly enjoyed, especially by the boys whose pocketbooks were being spared. Candy sales and visitations of guest speakers rounded out the club's entertaining year.

Tolo

The Girls' Club annual Tolo brought the gaiety and fun of the Mardi Gras to winter-bound J-Hiers on February 5. The cafeteria shone with brilliant decorations and myriads of balloons — the work of the Junior committee. Seated at colorfully decorated tables, the work of the ambitious Frosh, the couples enjoyed refreshments served by the Sophomores and watched entertainment provided by the Seniors. The festive feeling created by "Mardi Gras" insured everyone of memorable good times.

Mr. Lyman Bruce, J-Hi's new band conductor, came with many new ideas for public and inter-school performances. The Pep Band and the Dance Band consisted of selected students, chosen to give balanced instrumentation. The high school basketball rooters rocked to the rhythm of the Pep Band at all local games and Pep Assemblies. The entire band performed—with the Chorus at the Christmas and Spring Concerts, and at the graduation exercises.

Triplette, Caldwell, Lesh, Booth, Elaine Savikko,
Munson, Hanna Cowling, Tanner, Hudson, Johnson, Miss
Matthews, Stromeyer, Peterson.

The J-Hi Chorus swung off to a fast tempo this year by electing Marlene Palmer president. Between the long and rugged rehearsals, capable director Miss Doris Cranfill found time to schedule many public appearances—Thanksgiving service, Elks Memorial Program, Christmas and Spring Concerts, Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises. For the first time, the group sponsored a costume dance this year called the HOLIDAY HOEDOWN. Everyone was pleased with the professional atmosphere the chorus created this entertainment season.

Daana, Marilyn and Carey set western mood with novel skit.

Pep Club

Pep Club sparks J-Hi's cheering.

School spirit reached its highest peak this year with the aid of the J-Hi Pep Club. Mrs. Barber, Advisor, Karleen Alstead and Carla Berthol, drill leaders, proved that their leadership was indispensable. Aside from presenting four marches during the half-time of local games, they were hosts to visiting teams, sponsored dances, and started the pom-pom tradition. Another successful year may be added to Pep Club's record.

JACKIE HONEYWELL

We're with the team, so FIGHT!

Forming the traditional "V" for victory during the year's basketball season were Jackie, Linda, and Jim. This pep-filled triangle led the cheers of student fans at the local high school games, and represented J-Hi at the S. E. Alaska Basketball Tourney this spring.

Bubbling over with musical talent and new-and-different routines, Marilyn and Jodie waltzed away the hoop season as popular song queens.

Throughout the year the numerous pep rallies held for visiting teams were enthusiastically attended by spirited J-Hiers. A new spark to the pep squad was the majorette marching team, reorganized as part of the Pep Club. These perky girls, under the leadership of Jan Thomas, performed brisk, precision routines with the Pep Club, for the pleasure of half-time audiences.

The Majorettes' performances were applauded.

JIM TRIPLETTE

The Juneau High School varsity basketball team, led by Captain Alan Gray, found the '59-'60 season to be one of its best. The well-conditioned boys had a balanced attack built around their speed and height. By tournament time, Coach Ordway's "Bears" had an impressive win-loss record. They continued their fine play in the South-east Alaska Basketball Tournament at Sheldon Jackson, which climaxed a rewarding year.

Junior Varsity

Sasha scores again!

This year's Junior Varsity had many prospective stars trying out. Pre-season conditioning, under the supervision of Coach Mike Miller, was helpful for both squads. With a few out-of-town games planned, the teams practiced with much enthusiasm. The team had a good year and many future A-squad players were cultivated.

GIRLS' CAPTAINS

FIRST ROW: F. Child, A. Bowers, J. Roberson, M. Mihelich. SECOND ROW: V. Adams, P. Shelley, S. Whitehead, J. Meek, J. Soboleff.

Enthusiastic J-Hi bowlers rolled through another year of tough competition and high scores. Almost doubling in size, the club split into boys' and girls' leagues, meeting at the Channel Bowl Lanes every Saturday morning.

Big events of the year included Christmas holiday and end-of-the-year tournaments.

Under the direction of Mr. Jeffrey, advisor, and sponsored by the Moose Club, each member became affiliated with the Junior American Bowling Congress.

Rifle Club members participated in another "bang-up" season of rifle shooting this year, with Mr. Eide and Mr. Dean as coaches and co-advisors. Russ Secrist held the president's position in this active organization. Postal matches were held frequently throughout the year. The 1959-1960 shooting activity closed with the annual Big Bore Shoot and picnic at the Mendenhall Rifle Range.

Watch the birdie!

May the best team win.

Intramurals

Each year underclassmen and a few upperclassmen enjoy bi-weekly basketball, volleyball, or badminton. An important event in the lives of many high school boys, except those who live in the rural areas, intramurals are a source for Physical Education credit. Team captains were chosen, and they in turn chose teams to enter the round-robin tournament competition. At the end of each sports season, play-offs were held and award medals presented to the winning participants.

Scoring counts, too.

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association started off the beginning quarter by electing Dottie Devinney as president.

Volleyball, a fast moving game requiring smooth team work, was the first sport for which a tournament was held. Exciting Basketball and badminton tournaments followed. The club made an effort to learn the rules of each game thoroughly so they could play correctly.

Several upperclassmen assisted the advisor, Mrs. Barber, by acting as referees for the various games, and by helping the girls work on earning points on the outside.

How's the Ridge?

Ski Club

A rigorous and thorough training program earmarked the activities of the Ski Club this year. Starting in December, President Joe Heuelsen and Mr. Bibb began the famous calisthenics program, which was varied through the season with trips to second cabin on Wednesdays, cross-country racing on Friday's, and team competition at third cabin on Saturdays.

Money-raising projects flourished with the Fur Rendezvous and purchase of new equipment in view. Dances and pop sales were part of the drive to become self-supporting.

The high school ski season was capped off with the Ski Tournament held here and participation in the annual Ski Club Banquet in the spring.
